DEDICATION

to

JOHN F. KENNEDY

"All things have their season, and in their times all things pass under heaven. A time to be born and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted."

(Eccles. 3:1-2)

Success has often been achieved with the help of our fellow men and their actions are influences upon our whole lives. John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the martyred thirty-fifth President of the United States, stands out as a shining light of influence. His call to us, to share in the rebirth of national pride, to be builders of our country and to rededicate ourselves to the basic ideals of mankind, rings out in the words of his inaugural address:

Now the trumpet summons us again - not as a call to bear arms, though arms we need - not as a call to battle, though embattled we are - but as a call to bear the burden of a long twilight struggle, year in and year out, 'rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation' - a struggle against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, disease, and war itself . . . I do not shrink from this responsibility - I welcome it. I do not believe that any of us would exchange places with any other people or any other generation . . . and so, my fellow Americans: ask not what your country can do for you - ask what you can do for your country."

To him and to his ideals which are his lasting monuments we dedicate the Lion, 1964.

Mr. H. Miller

This year, Mr. Miller completes his twenty-fifth year of service to Leo High School. We wish to extend our best wishes to him on this occasion.

Mrs. H. Westerkamp

Mrs. Westerkamp is the very capable director of our cafeteria. It is through her efforts that the students' lunches are prepared each day.

Mothers' Club

It is through this activity that the mothers show a deep interest in their boys and in the school. The many activities and projects sponsored by the Mothers' Club help keep the interest at a peak. With a strong group of officers and an active organization, this year has been no exception in the continual excellence of the club. Brother Carr, the moderator, is justly proud of the work the mothers have done.

The first meeting in September was presided over by Mrs. Alban Vaisius. At it, Brother O'Hare welcomed the freshmen mothers and everyone soon got acquainted. In November, the Mothers' Club put on a play, "Kooky Kapers". This entertainment was a great success and everyone thoroughly enjoyed it. The Brothers' Christmas party was held on December 8th and a grand time was had by all. After the February meeting, the mothers had a tour of the school. The election of officers took place at the April meeting and, in May, the installation took place.

During the year, the club sponsored several big events, including the annual card party and the Communion breakfast for the seniors. Both the band and glee club entertained for the mothers on different occasions. For variety, at one meeting they were amused by the "Blowhard Kitchen Band" from Evergreen Park.

Success and joy in the thought of a job well done crowned the efforts of the 1963-64 Mothers' Club.

Minutes of the last meeting are read by Mrs. L. Henning, the recording secretary.

A number of monthly meetings were preceded by benediction in the Leo chapel.

After each meeting, the mothers chatted over coffee and cake.

Typical of the devotion of Leo mothers is that of Mrs. McConaghy who provided the accompaniment at "Kooky Kapers."

The "Atlantic Beauty Queens", Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Shankman, sing in the Club's variety show.

Everyone got in the act, including Mr. J. Kenny, Mr. G. Busse, and Mr. P. Fritsch, members of the Dad's Club.

J. De Giacomo, E. Bart, C. May and L. Koenighshofer portrayed "Goodie Good Boys."

CLUB OFFICERS: Mr. G. Enright, Mr. J. Bukauski, Mr. J. Dogan, Mr. S. Strzelecki, Mr. G. Busse, Br. C. B. Miller (Moderator), Mr. E. Preiser, Mr. J. Schmidt

Fathers' Club

The LEO FATHERS' CLUB, now in existence for twenty-seven successive years, continues to forge ahead for the betterment of our students and school. The fathers hold their regular meetings on the second Wednesday of each month. These meetings prove to be beneficial to those in attendance. No student will forget the Father and Son Meetings, when the entertainment is always unique. The fathers finance for our benefit three important phases of school life, a personal insurance plan, a fall banquet and a spring banquet.

The insurance program, which they maintain within themselves, allows any boy who has suffered the death of his father to continue his education at Leo with paid tuition until he graduates.

The two banquets given each year are to honor the participants in various activities. The banquets are highlighted by the presentation of awards, and the presence of a distinguished speaker.

The Leo Father's Club has done wondrous and praiseworthy deeds for us in the past, and we both hope and believe they will endeavor to do so in the future.

Mr. Busse, the President, addressed the monthly meetings.

Our honorary Vice-President, Mr. James Doody, played a large part in the formation of the first Leo Father's Club.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS: Mr. J. Surane, Mr. W. Hurd, Mr. C. McKenna, Mr. R. Roche, Mr. A. Wedryk, Mr. J. Gannon, Mr. J. Gleasons, Mr. J. Carollo, Mr. G. McConaghy

Occasionally, a FATHER AND SON NIGHT was held. A popular feature of these meetings was the "hot-dogs" served afterwards.

Various modes of entertainment were provided. Pictured above is Dizzy Trout, scout for the White Sox, as he lectures the assembly.

The meetings provided the setting for faculty and Dads to get together for a talk. Mr. McAllister, Br. O'Hare and Mr. Callaghan are making full use of the opportunity.

At the annual fall banquet, J. Brankin (band scholastic award), B. Badke (most valuable player) and J. Strzelecki (athletic scholastic award) received their trophies.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION. Mr. M. McDermott, Mr. M. Collins, Mr. J. Newell, Br. Coogan, Mr. J. Durkin, Mr. J. Gavin, Mr. B. Giblin, Mr. H. Rogers

Alumni

Our alumni's major purpose is to further the aims of the Leo men who join the Christian Brothers of Ireland. These men also donate a bursar to the Congregation in behalf of all of Leo's graduates. More recently, they have provided scholarships for needy boys who have shown the desire and ability to attend Leo.

The Alumni obtain this revenue mainly through the annual ad drive of the organization which is held during February. Its dinner dance was a far cry from the gala affair it usually is, since it was held on November 23, the day after President Kennedy's death. The annual banquet was held on April 27 at Kilty's and it was its usual success. This closed one of the most successful years in the alumni's recent history.

The annual banquet is the subject under the discussion of Br. Coogan (Moderator), Mr. Collins and Mr. Durkin (President).

Among our many distinguished alumni, we are proud to number Br. J.D. Manning (principal of St. Laurence H.S.) and Br. G.B. Rohan (principal of Brother Rice H.S.)

Debate

While training Leo men in the art of public speaking, the Debating Team succeeded this year in compiling an admirable record. Organized in 1962 by Bro. Barwin, who now moderates the Senior Team, the debaters have shown great promise in their matches.

The Sienna debate, held on December 14, saw Kevin Leo win a best speaker's trophy. On January 18 in a Chicago Catholic Forensic League meet at St. Laurence, the seniors had a five and one record with 238 points by which they succeeded in taking first place honors.

The moderators hope that the experience in public speaking will train their charges to think logically, to have confidence, and present their thoughts to an audience in a persuasive manner. In addition to their fine record, our seniors have developed these traits.

As Junior debate moderator, Br. Keane has had the younger members continually practicing in these very respects, since the primary purpose of the Junior Team is to prepare underclassmen for future debating on the senior team. They have had many successful practice debates and a better than average record in League meets. If their performance of this year is an indication of future accomplishments, the outlook for the next several years is bright.

"Look your opponent square in the eye, men," says Br. Keane.

The persuasive five SENIOR DEBATERS - Paul McAdams, Kevin Leo, Don Balchunas, Bill Gansloser and Bob Lee give a wide smile for the photographer.

With his usual eloquence Br. Barwin tells the debaters of the hard "fights" ahead.

SENIOR SODALITY. (STANDING) J. La Cloche, J. Doll, D. Smith.
(SITTING) J. Pfeiffer, D. Balchunas, W. Cornfield

One of the two religious activities the students participate in is the League of the Sacred Heart. The promoters try to dispose Leo•men to a greater devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. They accomplish this end by encouraging the reception of the Holy Eucharist on First Fridays and by encouraging the school to become active members of the League.

The other distinct religious group of Leo men is the Sodality. This particular assemblage binds itself by a pledge to an agendum of prayer and good works. Every Wednesday the Sodality members assist at Mass and receive the Holy Eucharist as a unit. Following the Mass they hold their weekly meeting at which they form a plan of activity for the coming week.

At Thanksgiving last year, the Sodality collected canned goods - soups, meats, even hams - and distributed them to nearly a score of needy families throughout the south side. During Lent the Sodalists helped keep the cafeteria in proper order after the Lenten Breakfast each morning.

Besides celebrating Mass on First Fridays, Father Novak came to Leo's chapel to hear students' confessions and to give Leo men a chance to move closer to God.

Every Leo man eagerly awaits the retreats. During the three day period that the retreat encompasses, the young men lend themselves to contemplation on the pitfalls of this world, and how to overcome them.

A phase of the lay apostleship that every Leo man contributes to is the support of the missions. The Leo student never passes up a chance to help a priest in another land - he knows every nickel and dime counts.

Lion

Work on the 1964 LION was begun last May under the supervision of Brother Cornell, the new moderator of the yearbook. Although some work was accomplished during the summer, a feverish pace had to be kept during the year. The big task of this year's staff began in the guidance room. By February, the staff's own room at the end of third floor corridor was completed.

The co-editorship of this year's book was handled by Bill Cornfield the senior editor, and Bill Laffey, the junior editor. Under their direction, the staff labored with tremendous enthusiasm after school and on days off, designing the cover, determining the dedication, developing and printing photographs, proofreading, writing articles and carefully designing every page that would go into the forming of this year's annals. All this was done under the pressure of meeting ever present deadlines. Work was especially difficult because of the fact this year's LION was to be a change over those of the past.

This year's staff was almost entirely composed of novices. In spite of this, our work was done with a minimum number of mistakes and maximum amount of efficiency.

"Hey, Bill, look at this," says writer, John Gannon (left), to editor, Bill Cornfield, as they do the various write-ups.

Problems and more problems constantly perplexed the Moderator, Br. Cornell and the editors-in-chief, Bill Cornfield and Bill Laffey.

With many photos to take and print, John Poss and Ralph Milos kept a busy schedule in the very heart of the yearbook, the dark room.

The tedious job of typing copy was performed by Andy Kundrot (BACK) and Stan Ogar (FRONT).

"Oh, no, layout again", says Andy Kundrot (CENTER) to the unconcerned Tom Mohorek (RIGHT) and the cynical Bill Laffey (LEFT).

The football season in photos is surveyed by sports editors, John Gannon and Kevin Leo.

Teachers, classes, students and anyone else who had to be photographed were interrupted by the photographers.

Photographers Rich Petrulis and Ray Walsh sacrificed much of their free time in taking pictures before and after school, on weekends, holidays, etc.

Much of the art work on the LION, 1964 was done by sophomore, Ken Tichy.

Oriole

The ORIOLE is more than just another activity for students to join; it is the starting point for all students who are interested in journalism as a career. Here they learn to work under pressure and still produce quality publications. The strain of deadline, however, is forgotten when each edition of the paper is distributed to the student body.

Brother Bielen, in his second year as moderator, surrounded himself with a very capable staff. Jay Finno, the Editor-in-Chief, did an excellent job throughout the year. His fine editorials highlighted each edition of the paper. He was ably assisted by Paul McAdams, the Feature Editor, Larry Ryan and Kevin Leo, the Sports Editors, Don Balchunas, the News Editor, and Ken Barnes, the Business Editor.

We can look forward to many good issues next year, for the juniors attended a sixteen week Journalism Seminar at Loyola this year. Furthermore, the Junior Issue fared quite well in the Saint Bonaventure's Press Day.

The entire staff did a commendable job in getting the news and writing the articles for each issue. The aims of the ORIOLE are to keep the high ideals of the Faith before the students while informing and entertaining them. This year's staff is to be congratulated for accomplishing and maintaining these ideals.

"LIONS, LIONS!" Games were covered diligently by Larry Ryan and Kevin Leo, the sports editors.

Dances

Ever searching for new ideas, Br. Miller and his Dance Committee stuck a favorable note this year with the innovation of dances after basketball games. This year these were held after the St. Laurence game of January 11 and the St. Philip game of January 25. Since these were so well received, more are planned for next year.

The annual Homecoming was the first dance of the year. A large crowd greeted the football team. The Blarney Club was the setting and Marie Clakis, the date of Bernie Lynch, was chosen the Homecoming queen. Encouraged by the favorable results of this dance, the Committee then arranged a Halloween dance. Once again a large crowd attended this gala affair held at the Holiday Club.

The junior - senior dinner dance was held on February 11 at Kilty's, and the attraction to this revitalized dance was indeed favorable. Entertainment was provided by Lou Breeze and his orchestra. A queen and a court of princesses reigned over the affair. When the strains of the last dance were heard, all were sorry to see a most pleasant evening come to a close.

The senior prom, also a dinner dance, took place at the Valley View Farm, where outdoor as well as indoor dancing was provided. This was a fitting conclusion to a successful year of dances.

Big plans are discussed by Br. Miller (Moderator) and M. Ward, M. Bolsoni, J. Cari, and M. Gorman, the officers of the Dance Committee.

A sumptuous repast is enjoyed by the dinner dancers.

Now in his sixth as director, Mr. Manna continues to produce the south side's most successful glee club.

"Br. Mac", when he is not hollering the roll call, stops to talk to some of the glee club members.

The many tedious hours spent in preparation for the Spring Concert were well worth it, as the Glee Club, directed by Mr. Frank Manna and moderated by Br. McNamara, gave an excellent performance. It culminated months of ceaseless effort, and the participants rose to the occasion. Composed of one hundred and twenty-five Leo boys and one hundred and twenty girls from neighboring schools, the Glee Club sang a medley of Broadway hits from such musicals as "Showboat", "South Pacific" and "The Music Man".

Prior to this event, the male chorus presented three concerts: one at Christmas time, one at Aquinas and another at Mercy. Folk music, spirituals, popular songs, and comedy numbers were included with the emphasis on folk music.

Often overlooked is the social aspect of the Glee Club. In addition to the traditional year-end picnic, various intra-Club dances and a hayride were held. These activities unified the group and lessened the tedium of the practices.

Many long hours of practice bring success and finally, a feeling of accomplishment to one of the most devoted groups at Leo. Year after year, the Band manages to turn out a very skillful group of musicians. The overall co-operation of the members along with its devoted director Mr. Leo Henning, and its spirited moderator Br. Acker makes this possible.

Although they are a fine marching unit, the Band prefers to rate itself by its musical accomplishments. During the course of the year, it has participated in half-time shows at football games, and parades, and has given many concerts. The Band particularly enjoyed giving concerts at several other schools. The Annual Spring Concert put on by both the Band and Glee Club was a huge success this year. The joint effort of these organizations is an example to all, that a good showing is made when everyone works together. Along with its other assets, the band had a competent group of officers to keep the "machinery" moving.

Drama

With "Inspiration 4-6565" as a stimulus, the Drama Club, equipped with a live baby alligator, presented a hilarious farce on clerical retirement. "Shepherds on the Shelf" presented five priests with their own solutions for the problem of aging.

Brother R. A. McNamara led the search for bongo drums, water guns and finger paintings, in addition to his duties as director. The fine cooperation of Mercy High School again insured a spot for a successful performance.

By the experience gained with each new performance, the Drama Club is developing the renewed spirit of fine plays at Leo. Brother McNamara is encouraged by the results and plans even more challenging performances in the years to come.

Class 4B is shown above performing an assignment for English class. To those interested in advancing themselves, the library is the very pulse of their lives.

Library Club

The purpose of the library is to assist the students in their studies, and to help them learn to use a library, either their Public Library or their future college library. The library is an invaluable aid to any student who has a term paper or a report to write. For example, those junior students who entered the National Maritime Contest had to go no farther than the second floor to get much of the necessary information on the American Merchant Marine.

The Student Assistants helped their fellow students and the school by carrying on the work of the library. They devoted much of their free time before, after and during school to the upkeep of the library. Without their help, Brother Shea's job would have been even more difficult, if not impossible. Most of their work went unnoticed during the year, but they were the ones who put the returned books back on the shelves, kept the card catalogue in order, and arranged the magazines in the proper sequence.

Many thanks are owed to Brother Shea and his fine staff for their excellent work all year.

Card Cataloguing, which allows a student to find a book on a particular subject, or check a title or the author of a book, is the important job of Jim Greene, Tom Brown, and Mike Kelly.

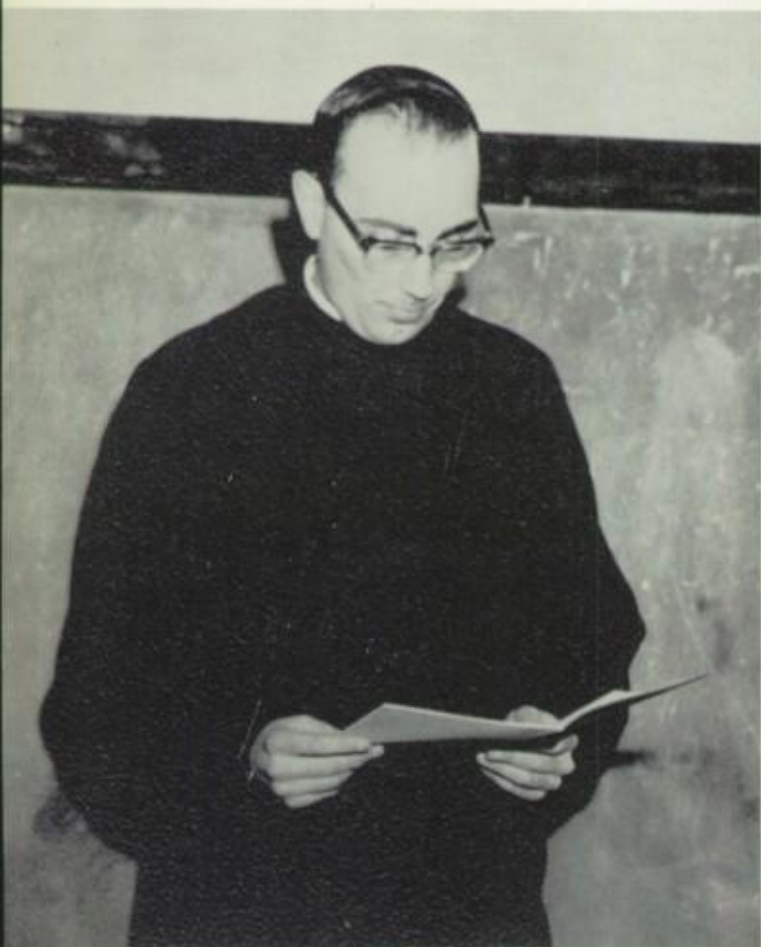

Jim Corrigan puts plastic covers on books while Harold Esolato puts call numbers on them before shelving.

Gene Lucarz keeps the "statistics" for the monthly and yearly reports as Mike Banks takes care of "overdues."

Jim O'Neill types out the catalogue cards for books, while Sumner Jones keeps a record of all the magazines in the library.

A lively spirit is customary among Leo students. However, the cheerleaders have assumed the task of organizing the shouts of encouragement for our teams.

Varsity Football

Our first league opposition was the eventual city championship team of St. Rita. The loyal rooters showed a true picture of the Lions' determination by a cheering that prevented the starting signals from being heard. Suburban rivals, Brother Rice, took advantage of key breaks as they shut out the offensive unit of the Lions.

The first taste of victory came against St. Laurence. Hard rushes by the defensive line and a punt which was blocked by Captain Tim Hansen led the Lions to their winning touchdowns. In the Mount Carmel game, the Caravan repeatedly used the screen pass for long gains against the charging Lion defenders. Despite two key interceptions which gave them the ball in good field position, our offensive unit stalled twice within the ten yard line.

Closing the season at a windswept Gately Stadium, Leo overwhelmed Mendel with a fine ground attack. Hard work by the interior linemen repeatedly sprung Bernie Badke and Frank Brandys, both of whom gained close to 100 yards each.

With the experience gained this year and fine reserve depth, the Lions should regain the position of a football power in the Catholic League.

Basketball - Heavies

The moderator, Br. Collins, and our coach, Mr. Lamkin, talk over the possibilities of the Heavies for the season.

Continuing in Leo's tradition, the Heavies managed to get a birth in the play-offs for the Catholic League Championship for the twenty-sixth time in thirty years. But to the dismay of a crowd of cheering Leo students, the Lions fell to Gordon Tech in their play-off game at Alumni Hall.

Yet all through the season, except for one game, the Heavies played tremendous ball. Even though they were the underdogs, they beat St. Rita in both games. In the last two games of the season, against Mt. Carmel and Br. Rice, when they had to win, they played their best ball games. At the end of the season, the Heavies had won seven and lost three.

Leo men will scarcely be able to forget the starting five of the Lions: Bill Biros and Woody Stearns sparking the team on to victory with their terrific ball-handling and sharpshooting, Tom Enright endlessly frustrating his opponents with his sparkling jump shot, John Reilly tipping and outrebounding taller opponents, and Ron Kalchbrenner stealing the ball, or driving for a lay up.

Backing up the starting five was a willing and co-operative bench. These players and the starters all contributed in making the Heavies an ideal Leo team: one that never says die.

Lights

Mr. Keefe, the coach of the Lights, has made a valiant effort to improve the performance of this phase of basketball activity. Cross-Country

During his brief stay at Leo, Br. Castellanos spent a large part of that time working with the Cross-Country team.

In the course of the past season, the 1963 Cross-Country team acquired four additions for our trophy case. The senior team copped second place honors in both the Catholic League South Section and Catholic League Championship meets. The junior team added first place South Section and second place Catholic League Championship trophies.

In heading for the championship meets, the 1963 Lions compiled an honorable score of five victories and one defeat in dual meet competition, while the underclassmen, led by sophomores J. Collado and B. Dolan, raced their way to a perfect record of six victories and no defeats.

Further glory was brought to the Leo team by the breaking of existing school and course records. John Cosgrove set the school records for the two mile courses at Br. Rice field and Marquette Park, while Bill Bolton set the school record for the two mile championship course at Riis Park.

Underclassmen brought fame to the junior team by breaking three different course records. John Collado did the trick at Marquette Park and again at Ryan's Woods. Bob Dolan is the holder of the Br. Rice course record.

The success of the season can be directly attributed to the skill and techniques of Br. Castellanos, a coach who was able to develop the ideal coach-team relationship.

Track

The coaches, Br. Bielen, Br. McDonough, Mr. Keane, Br. Millington, confer on some problems of an upcoming meet.

Under the very capable coachwork of Br. Castellanos and Mr. Keane, the track team commenced its season in January this year at the Washington Park Armory. Br. Castellanos worked with the team until February 9, when he was transferred to Detroit. Brothers Bielen, Millington, and McDonough all extended their efforts to Mr. Keane in coaching the team.

Besides early practice at the Armory, another aid to the track team was the building of the hurdles by the Leo Fathers' Club. Mr. L. Kruse, Mr. M. Doherty, Mr. W. Donnellan, Mr. J. Carollo and Mr. F. Scaletta all spent much time on the hurdles.

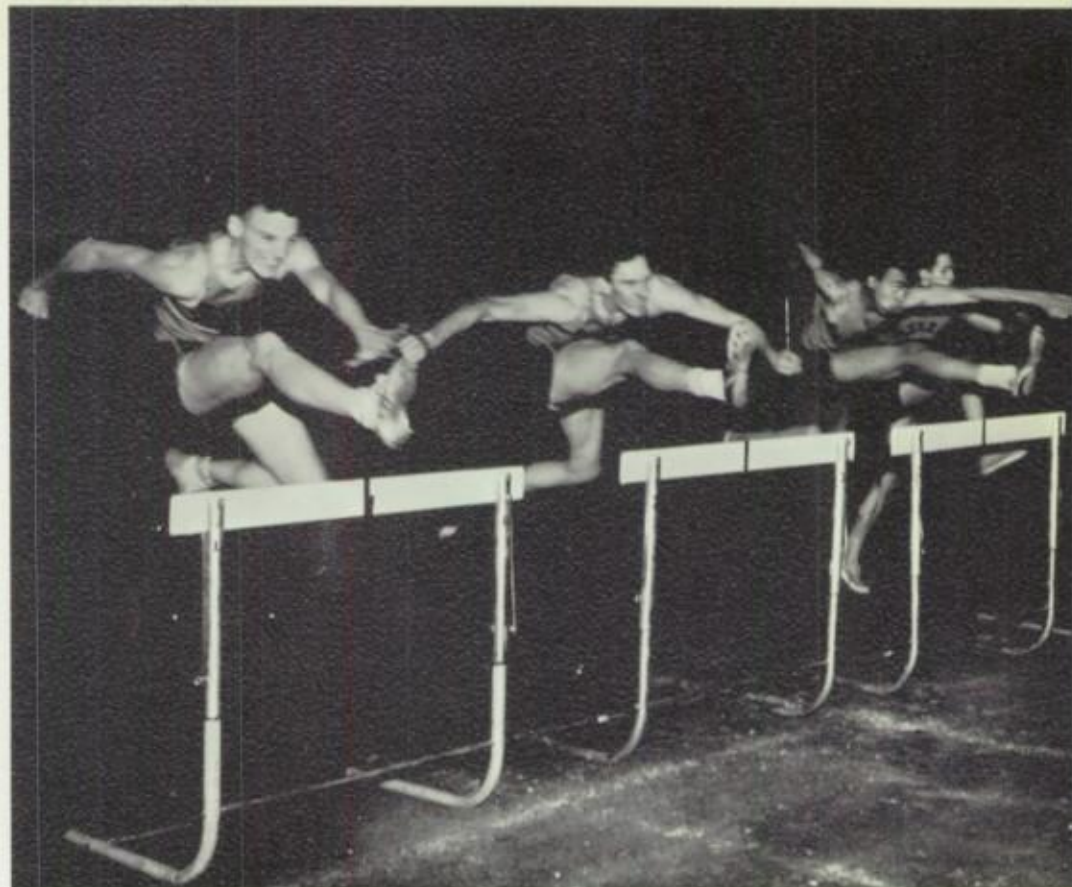

On March 6, at the Daily News Relays, the Leo team copped several bronze medals to take third place. On March 20, the track team participated in the CCTA Indoor Relays at the University of Chicago Field House. During April and May, the team entered into Dual Meet competition. At the end of the Dual Meet schedule, the junior and senior teams tried to win honors in the City Championship meet.

Swimming

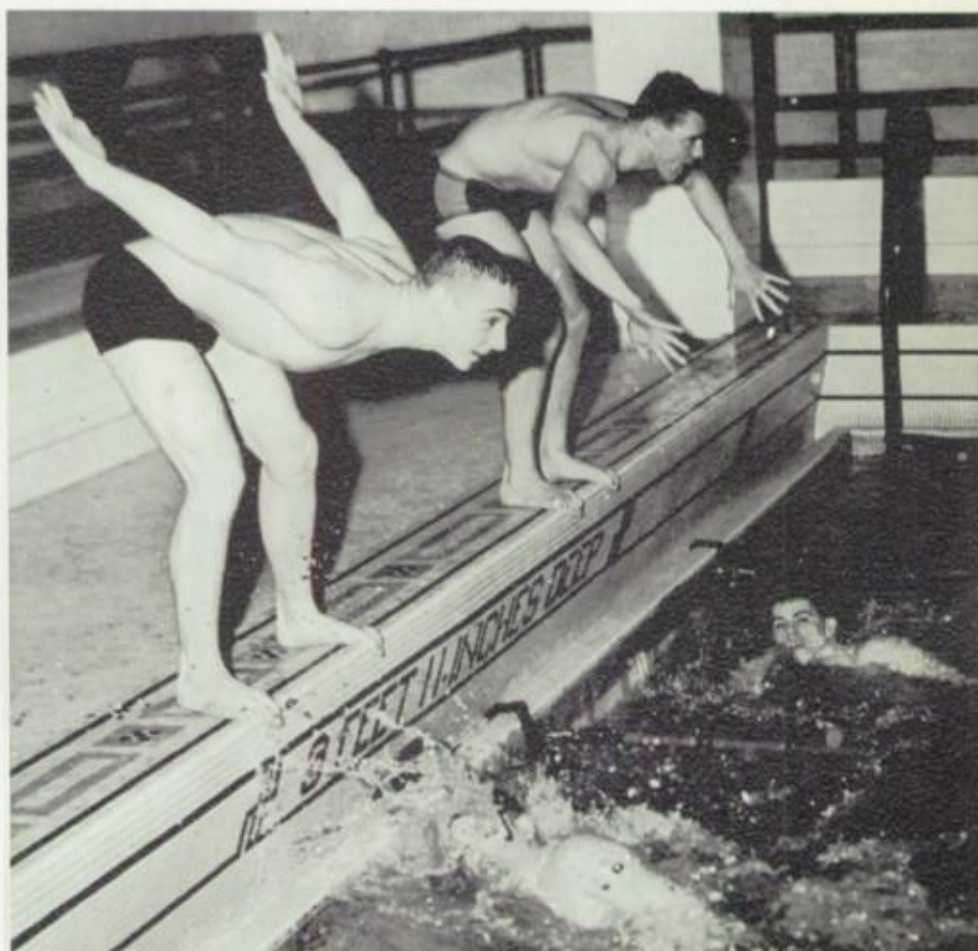

Under the guidance of Brothers McKenna and Miller, swimming and diving coaches respectively, this year's team had a very successful season. Both the juniors and seniors took first place in the St. Philip's Invitational and later in the season, in the Leo Invitational. The junior team won the first permanent swimming trophy in the history of Leo. Although the competition was very rough this year, both teams lost only two dual meets during the season. This success can be attributed to the interest of the swimmers along with their cooperation with the coaches. Spurring on the enthusiasm of the teams were the senior co-captains, B. Sheehan and N. Zingaro.

Bowling

Bowling provided another successful year of satisfying enjoyment for approximately sixty students. The teams progressed under their moderator, Mr. Reinke, and their president, Bill Reker. They were divided into a Junior (freshmen and sophomores) and Senior (juniors and seniors) Division. Both divisions had traveling teams which made a satisfactory mention in inter-school competition.

The bowlers had their home lanes at Highland Recreation Center, where they bowled in intramural competition every Wednesday. In addition, some of the bowlers participated in the Christmas Tournament.

The Junior bowlers hope to follow the example set by their predecessors.

Wrestling

The Leo Wrestling Lions opened the 1963-64 season by downing four consecutive non-league opponents: Bogan, Bowen, Wheaton Academy and Calumet and by tying Morgan Park Academy. In their league opener, they handily defeated Loyola 42-8. However, in the next two meets, they fell to the strong Carmel and Mendel teams 31-16 and 31-19 respectively. The wrestling team came back to defeat Br. Rice 28-16 only to fall to Holy Trinity 27-19 and to Mendel by a score of 34-15.

In a return non-league match, the Lions edged Morgan Park Academy 24-22. In the three remaining league matches, the Leo grapplers dropped a 34-6 decision to Carmel, thoroughly defeated Br. Rice 34-10 and avenged an earlier defeat by outscoring Holy Trinity 36-8.

The Lions concluded the season by showing good team balance in the Catholic League Championship Tournament, finishing third in a field of six. Although the Lions failed to produce an individual champion, they placed five men in second and five men in third place.

Brother Tuohy (coach) tells two senior team members of his plans for the season.

Tennis

Throughout spring practice, which was held in the armory at first, and later on in the play lot, the tennis team members worked diligently to build their talents. Evidence of their hard work could be seen in the gym on rainy days.

Although the members of the racquet squad have not yet reached their lofty goals, they have won a number of their matches. With the enthusiasm of the coach, Brother Tuohy and his players, we can be well assured that our team will do its utmost to bring more glory to the Lions.

The smiles of great possibilities are pictured on the faces of SENIOR TEAM MEMBERS: P. Mc Aleer, G. Munno, T. Enright, M. Mackey, T. Durkin, J. Strzelecki

Golf

A unique aura surrounds the members of the golf team. They seem to have the successful business man's stride, as they go from hole to hole. However, things are not quite as easy as they appear on the surface. They too must mix the grueling struggles of aspiring athletes with the pleasures of playing golf. This year's team made an all out effort to leave the mark of the Lions' claws on the increasingly difficult opponents found in the Catholic League. Moderated and coached by Brother Coogan, the team had a rather successful season.

Jim Strzelecki relishes the thought of a possible hole in one.

Amidst teaching duties, the pressing responsibilities of a President of the Catholic League, a Leo Athletic Director, etc., Brother Coogan finds time to coach the golf team.

The yearbook staff would like to express its most sincere thanks and appreciation to those who helped to make this year's LION what it is. Included in this number are the faculty and students of Leo, the Norman King Company, Walinger Studios, Inc. to whom we are indebted for many of our pictures, and Fabian Bachrach to whom we are grateful for the picture of Monsignor Molloy.
